Greetings,

Our shadow program is an exciting opportunity for interested high school junior and senior students to experience the Air Force ROTC program at Detachment 536 prior to entering their freshman year of college. We'll partner interested students with a current cadet and they will spend the day attending Air Force ROTC and university classes, including Leadership Laboratory in the evening. There is also the option to spend the night with some of our current cadets to experience university dorm life and attend Physical Training in the morning.

What is Leadership Laboratory? Leadership Lab (LLAB) is a unique, hands-on leadership training environment that all AFROTC cadets attend throughout the semester. Cadets are presented with various leadership challenges while learning military customs and courtesies, uniform wear, and drill and ceremonies. LLAB also involves the practices of problem solving, team building, and military discipline. At Shadow Day, you will discover what AFROTC cadets experience week to week.

The shadow program will be held on President's Day, Monday 17 February 2020. We ask that any students interested in participating in the Shadow day Program or cannot attend but are interested in joining our Air Force ROTC program after High School please contact us direct at det536af@clarkson.edu and we will e-mail you a quick 2 minute survey to complete. We would like the form completed by 30 December if possible for our planning purposes, but we can extend that deadline on a case by case basis Once you complete the survey, be on the lookout for an email with important information regarding Shasow Day and required forms which will be sent via email on or about 31 January 2020.

We look forward to hearing from you in the weeks ahead! Please feel free to contact me at (315) 268-7989 or det536af@clarkson.edu if you have any questions about our program or officer careers in the U.S. Air Force.

Sincerely,

RYAN KITTLE, CAPTAIN, USAF
Recruiting Officer
