

Teen Summer Symposium on Human Rights

Monday June 29th - Wednesday July 1, 2020

Times: 9:00 am - 2:30 pm

Cost: Free*

Virtual this Year

Now in its sixth year, the Capital Region Institute for Human Rights Teen Summer Symposium is a three-day workshop open to incoming high school freshmen through graduating seniors, who are interested in current events, social justice, and international relations. Through participating in activities and discussions, you'll develop the leadership skills and tools to have a positive impact on the world.

Topics and Speakers Include:

Peter Gannon, President & CEO

Joe Rogers
Educational Rights
Advocate

Cidra Sebastien
Youth Advocate and Leadership Development

James Shultis
LGBTQ Educator and Consultant

Samantha Power
Former U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations

Holocaust Survivor
Ivan Vamos

Gender Equality

Racial Justice

All of our workshops and panels will be hosted online

To register visit capitalregionhumanrights.org. Registration is limited to 100 participants.

*Sponsored by:

